Iran Conflict

Dear Business Partner,

We are watching the current geopolitical developments in Iran and worldwide with great concern.

At present, we see no cause for immediate concern regarding our supply chains. We do not source materials directly from Iran. For materials we source from the Middle East, for example, we usually have a secondary supplier in Europe. In cases where this is not the case, we maintain a sufficiently high safety stock to bridge any temporary delays.

We are in contact with our primary suppliers to proactively address any potential supply bottlenecks. Should this situation change, we will, of course, provide updates on our website.
